THE HOLLYWOOD PROFESSIONAL SCHOOL is an accredited college preparatory school, which was established for the purpose of offering a strong academic foundation to professional students actively engaged in motion picture or radio work. The large enrollment of non-professional students and those studying intensively in some branch of the cultural arts, attests the adaptability of the program. The school's educational ideal may be briefly expressed as the desire to give training and advice which will enable the student to achieve his highest potentialities.

Significant among the many contributing factors to the realization of this objective, is the guidance program. Each student's course of study is planned according to his interests, talents, and objectives. By developing those qualities and skills which will enable him to find gainful employment and to become a desirable member of his community, he is prepared for economic independence. Aesthetic and cultural subjects are considered essential as preparation for leisure time. As a result of this integrating program and personalized instruction, graduates have been able, not only to bring credit to themselves and to the school, but to "keep pace with an ever-changing world."

SONG TO OUR AMERICAN FLAG

As long as stars blaze
In heaven's vaulted dome,
So shall your stars shine
In our heart's home.

As long as sunrise splendor
Flames in white and red,
So shall your stripes blaze
Forever overhead.

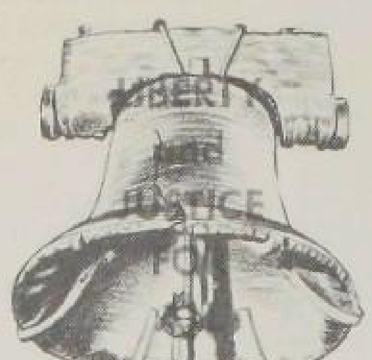

Let the shining symbol
Of heaven's holy hue
Keep our heart forever
Steadfast and true blue.

Let the blazing crimson
Be symbolic of
Love of country, and mankind
Expressing God's true love.

Let the shining splendor
Of purity's white light
Continually remind us
To do what 's just and right.

Wave on forever, oh, Flag,
Flaunt your banner high,
May you always shine as long
As there 's a world or sky !

COUPLE ESTABLISH SCHOLARSHIP AT SC

A four-year scholarship to the SC School of Medicine has been established in the name of the Hollywood Professional School by Mr. and Mrs. Philip Shore of Los Angeles, it was announced yesterday.

Effective with the 1960-61 academic year, the scholarship has been awarded to Carl Sherwin Korn, 1221 S Hayworth Ave. He is a Fairfax High School alumnus and was graduated from the SC School of Pharmacy last spring.

The Shores also have established a similar scholarship at Menlo Junior College, in both cases to give public recognition to the Hollywood Professional School's academic accomplishments.

Full tuition plus $50 a year for books and incidental expenses are provided.

The Hollywood Professional School is a fully-accredited private college preparatory school emphasizing the standard academic curriculum for both professionals and non-professionals. Many of its graduates have gone on to win other honors.

Miss Fuschi Recital Set

Olegna Fuschi, pianist, will appear in recital at Wilshire Ebell Theater on Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

Miss Fuschi recently returned from Poland, where she played in the Chopin competition. While there she was signed by the state music agency for a concert tour of Polish cities, including an engagement with the Warsaw Philharmonic Orchestra.

Miss Fuschi began her career in Los Angeles as a winner of the UCLA Young Artists Award.

Proceeds from the concert will establish scholarships for music students at Hollywood Professional School—which both Miss Fuschi and her impresarios, Thad Jacobs and Jerry Farber, attended.

Dear Miss Anderssen:

The Dean's Honor List for the Fall semester 1960 has just been compiled. The standards to achieve this honor are a grade point average of 3.6 or better in 14 units or more of college work for the semester.

I am sure you will be happy to learn of the success of one of your former students. The following graduate of your high school is on this list:

JAMES E. CLEMONS

You may be interested to know that the faculty is being invited to meet the Honor Students, Tuesday afternoon, May 9, at three o'clock. We hope you will be able to join us.

Sincerely,

It is again, as it has been from the beginning of our combined project, my pleasure to send you a copy of the statistical analysis of the special high school program. The enclosed material covers summer and fall, 1960.

Here at UCLA we are justly proud of the young people who participated and I know you share our pride in their academic achievement. We are also grateful for your invaluable cooperation and assistance in the program; I take this opportunity to tender my thanks to you.

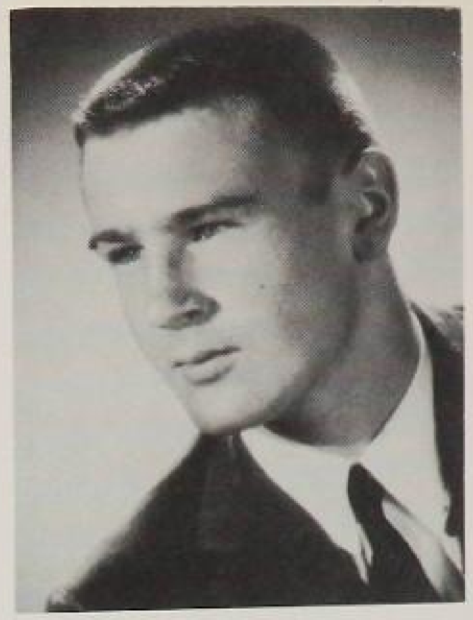

We look forward, of course, to as noteworthy and memorable an academic year with your students who will participate in 1961-1962.

Youngest Eagle Scout Wins Top Honor at 12

Jackson Wheeler Jr., 12, son of the host on KTTV's Jackson's Theater, yesterday was congratulated by Gov. Knight for being the youngest Eagle Scout in Scouting history.

Young Wheeler will fly with his family to New York tomorrow to receive the Eagle award from Chief Scout Executive Arthur A. Schuck at national Scout headquarters in New Brunswick, N.J.

First Occasion

Wheeler Sr said that it will mark the first time that the presentation of the Eagle award will be made in person by the chief Scout executive.

Young Wheeler became an Eagle Scout on Aug. 28, just over a year after he entered Scouting. He is a member of the Verdugo Hills Boy Scout Council.

In his Scouting he has earned 22 merit badges and had received the Silver Moccasins award for outstanding achievement while on a hik-

ECUADOR TRIP

Youth Home After Visiting Headhunters

Charles J. Wheeler, a 16-year-old boy who spends his summers doing what other boys only dream of, stepped from a plane here yesterday carrying a shrunken human head and a 20-ft. snakeskin.

Young Wheeler, son of television's Jackson Wheeler, said he collected the souvenirs in Ecuador, where he lived for three weeks with a tribe of headhunters, the Jivaros.

After leaving Ecuador, he flew to Cypress Gardens, Fla., to do some fancy water skiing, he said.

His sport was temporarily interrupted by hurricane Donna, whose eye passed directly over Cypress Gardens.

"After all, it was just a big wind," Charles said. "We sat back and enjoyed it."

Charles' apparently nonchalant attitude has been earned the hard way.

In 1956, at the age of 12, he became the youngest Eagle Scout in the world. President Eisenhower congratulated him personally on that occasion.

In 1958, he climbed the Matterhorn (14,692 ft.) in Switzerland, and attended a regular summer session in a Russian school in Moscow.

The Russian's rated this achievement highly: they gave him a Soviet Youth Hero's medal.

He capped that summer's activities by kissing the star of the Folies Bergere in Paris.

Aided by Doctor

His original intent on going to South America this summer, he said, was to collect material for a series of articles he's writing for national magazines, and for a book about the adventures of a teen-ager all over the world.

Dr. Wilburn Ferguson, who is seeking a cure for cancer, helped him be accepted by the Jivaros.

"Dr. Ferguson thinks the substance used to shrink heads may cure cancer, and generally revolutionize medicine," Charles said.

"I just lived the normal daily life of a tribal member. Learned how to use a blow pipe, too."

Charles rushed from the airport directly to UCLA where he is enrolled as a freshman.

LEANDER FEAT EQUALLED

L.A. Youth Swims Dardanelles Strait

Who says brawn doesn't go with brains?

Charles Jackson Wheeler says so.

Charles, a husky 16-year-old member of UCLA's "gifted students" program, proved it Sunday by swimming the treacherous Dardanelles, the 3-mile channel which separates Europe from Asia.

His feat parted the mists of mythology. According to an ancient story, Leander, a youth of Abydos, swam nightly across the Hellespont (the older name for the Dardanelles) ... ladylove, ... One ... drowned, ...

... at 1021 ... made it ...

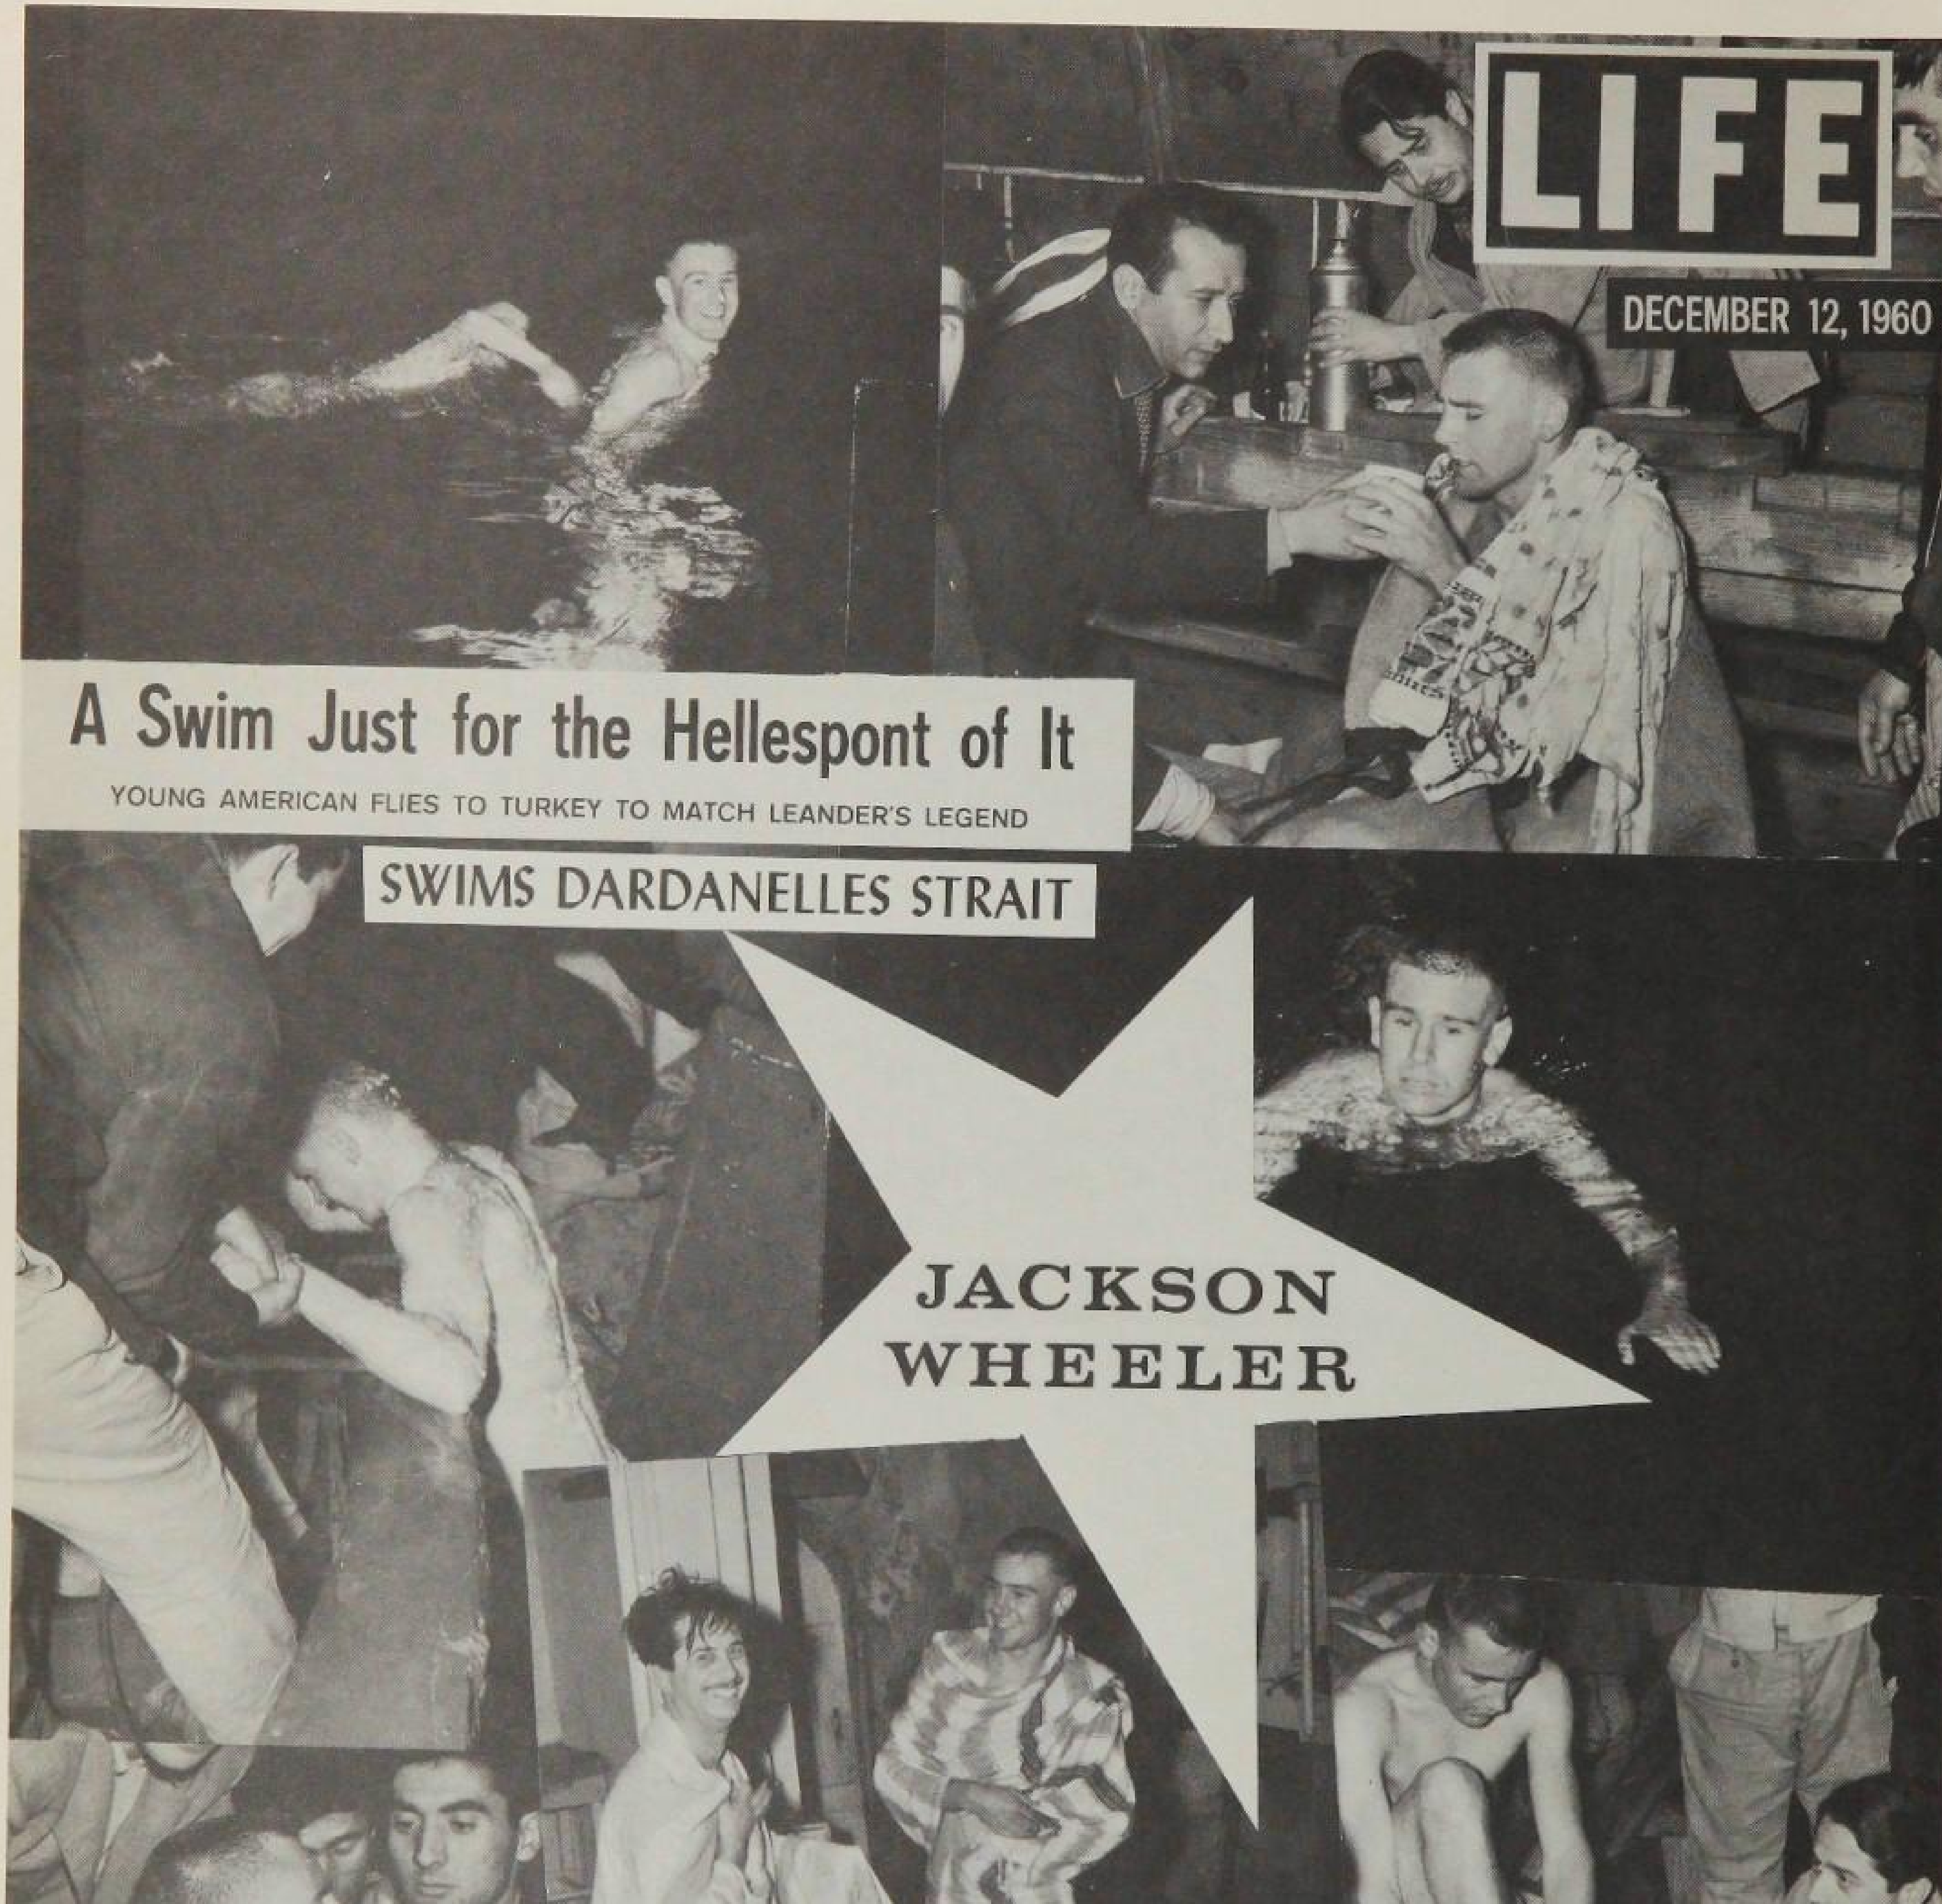

... stroke. The water was a chilly 40 degrees. Charles hardly remembers the last 30 minutes of his 1½-hour swim.

Charles flew to Turkey Saturday to recreate Leander's famous swim. But he had a deeper reason. According to his father, a TV news broadcaster, the boy wanted to show that "American youth was not soft."

Charles at 14 became the youngest American to climb the 14,691-foot Matterhorn in the Swiss Alps, and at 12 he was an Eagle Scout.

He paid the expenses for his latest feat out of his earnings. But it won't cost him any time from school. He returned by Pan American late Sunday night and is due back in class today.

MEETING THE PRESIDENT

BY CHARLES JACKSON WHEELER

Mr. Wheeler, the narrator, is 12 years old.

At 10:10 a.m., Saturday, Oct. 27, 1956, my family and I entered the Presidential office in the White House in Washington, D.C.

We left with the President's arm around my shoulders at 28 minutes to 11. I shall be telling my children about those 22 minutes. And I shall never forget the President's last statement to me as he stood with both his hands on my shoulders, looked down at me and said, "I am very proud to have met you, Jackson." I shall try very hard to live up to that statement the rest of my life.

And I was proud of my sister Judy. And my mother was wonderful — dad too! I was surely proud of my family. The conversation was interesting and warm and real.

How can I describe the President? The very second you enter his room, you feel his greatness. This er. He doesn't try—he is! This is hard to describe. I am only 12 years old and cannot express my feelings well at all. But this is what I am thinking.

Many a famous man tries to be funny, to be a wit. He tries to be smart. By being superior, he thinks he is impressing you. He speaks as if only he knows all the answers. He holds the world in his hand and opens it, finger by finger, to let you look.

Dwight D. Eisenhower is none of this. As I sat there, I got the feeling that he was my neighbor next door, but a neighbor that I could turn to in trouble who would know what to do and would do it! I trusted him. I loved him. Why did he make me think of Lincoln? They called him Abe — they call this man Ike. Abe didn't rush into things; he took his time and thought them out. He was gentle and quiet. He, too,

He fills the room but does it in a quiet, wonderful way. He is completely natural. He is not nervous in manner. He smiles often, and it's a real smile, his eyes smile with his face. laugh, but he didn't work at it.

Mr. Eisenhower made us laugh when he told about his grandchildren standing on their heads and

Dear Charles:

Thank you very much for your nice letter. I assure you that I, too, enjoyed greatly my meeting with you and your family.

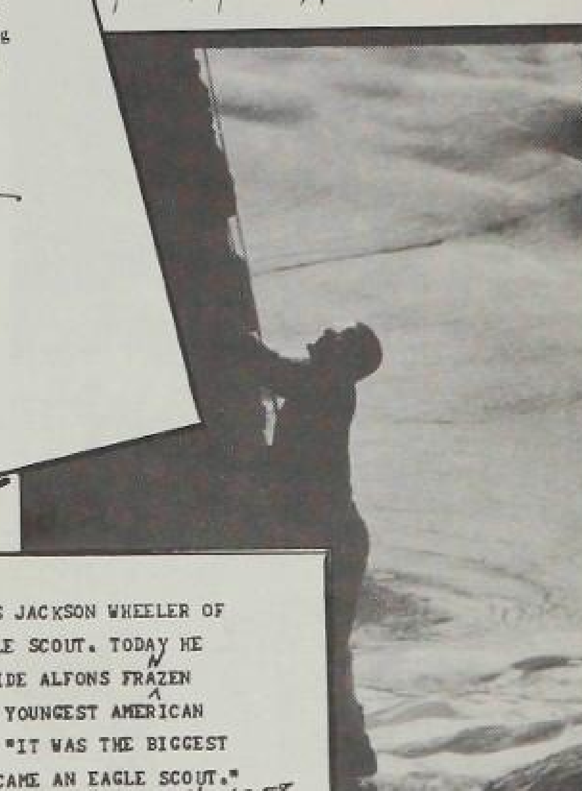

Incidentally, I am highly complimented by your article about our conversation. Congratulations both on being the youngest Eagle Scout -- and a good reporter, too!

THE STEINER BROTHERS

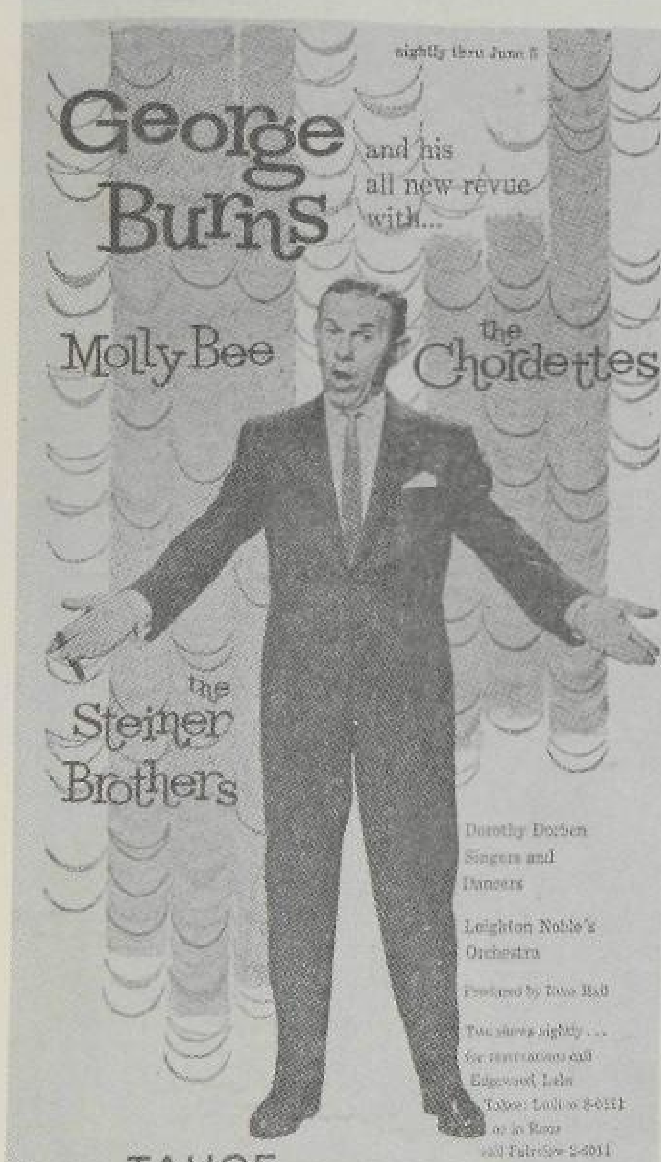

THE STEINER BROS.

These youngsters who rock with rhythm are the Steiner Brothers, the sensational teenage hoofers who recently were featured on the Dinah Shore Show, and signed for several other NBC-TV shows to come.

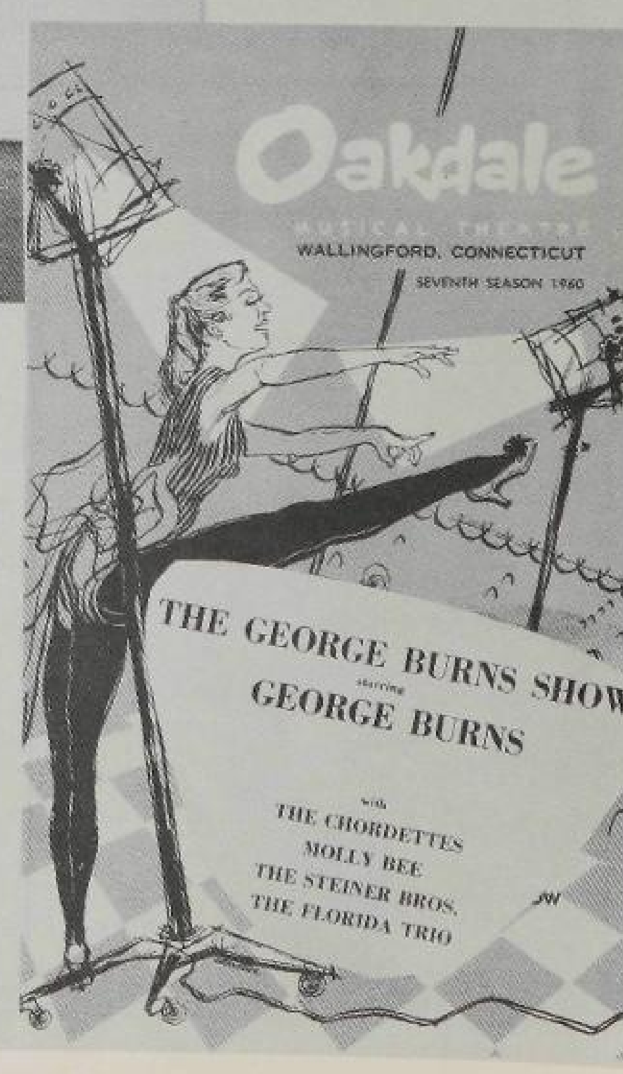

Their talents are tremendous. Though only thirteen to seventeen years-wise, they are much older in ability. Yet their precision-perfect unison in fast or slow tempos make them the youngest and most perfectly synchronized tap-dancers in the business.

Youth notwithstanding, the Steiner Brothers are true professionals. They dance and sing and earn salvos of applause for the talents displayed, not out of consideration of what might otherwise be termed a youthful effort, but for their outstanding show-stopping ability.

Among their recent appearances are successful engagements at the Thunderbird in Las Vegas, the Shamrock Hilton in Houston, the Statler Hilton in Dallas, the Mapes in Reno — and, of course, with the George Burns Show.

MARTA KRISTEN

F or et par dager siden møtte jeg tante Marta på et kontor i Oslo sentrum. Vi satt overfor hverandre en time — og samtalen dreiet seg hele tiden om Marta Kristen — Oslo-piken som kan takke «tante» for at hun ble hentet ut av sin barnehjemstilværelse her og adoptert av amerikanske foreldre. Hun er nå på vei mot stjernene i Hollywoods filmverden.

Tante Marta forteller historien om Birgit:

Fra barnehjem til Hollywood

For VG's lesere må tante Marta fortsatt være anonym, men hun kan fullt og helt bekrefte historien om det uønskede og foreldreløse lille krigsbarnet Birgit som nå er nesten voksen datter i en lykkelig amerikansk familie.

SPRING COMES a little late this year for Don Grady when he meets cute Marta Kristan on tonight's "My Three Sons" show, Channel 7, 9 p.m.

MARTHA SODERQUIST

Local Girl to Make TV Debut

Martha Soderquist, fifteen-year-old daughter of Professor and Mrs. Harold Soderquist, of Orchard Lake Road, Farmington, will soon appear on three well-known and popular television shows.

According to present schedules, Martha, under her professional name of Marta Kristen, will have parts in The Loretta Young show, "The Glass Cage," on October 30; in the Shirley Temple show, "Emmy Lou," on November 6, and will star in the Fred MacMurray, My Three Sons Show, "Spring Will Be a Little Late This Year," on December 4.

Since these dates are subject to change, those interested should watch for specific show titles in their T V Guides.

THE Cinderella KATHY YOUNG

L.B. Girl, 15, Makes Her Mark as Teen Star With Hit Disc

By TERRY VERNON

A 15-year-old Long Beach girl, who never had a singing lesson in her life, currently has the nation's 12th best-selling record to her vocal credit.

The record is "A Thousand Stars" and the girl, Kathy Young, 6555 Downey Ave., will appear on the Wink Martindale program at 8 p.m. today, channel 13.

Her quick trip to disc fame started unexpectedly last summer when Kathy and fellow members of the K-Pris, a girls' social and service club sponsored by the North Long Beach Women's Club, went to Pacific Ocean Park.

They went to hear Frankie Avalon, who was appearing on the Martindale show.

At the event, someone pointed out a man named Jim Lee and noted that he was manager for several young talented persons.

* * * *

THE K-PRIS confided Kathy to Lee and 20 girls started chattering about what a good singer she was.

Lee finally told her to call Indigo Records and say he told her to phone.

"I was scared to call," said Kathy. "I waited about a month, then figured I better call before I lost the telephone number."

An audition was scheduled. When Kathy arrived for the tryout, she learned that Lee was associated with the record company. He conducted the audition.

Kathy sang a song she had composed.

"I like it," said Lee.

He took out a contract and handed it to Kathy's mother, Mrs. Sam E. Young.

The teen-ager came back the next evening and recorded a test record, "A Thousand Stars."

* * * *

ON THE other side of the disc, one of Kathy's songs, "Eddie, My Darling," was recorded.

"I wrote it when I was in eighth grade at Hamilton Junior High School," said Kathy. "Originally, the boy's name was 'Benny' and he was a boy I really knew.

"But I stopped liking him so I changed the name in the song."

Kathy's "Eddie" hasn't attained the rating height of "Stars," but it has been the No. 1 favorite in Arizona and New Mexico.

Just released is another of Kathy's compositions, "Someone to Love." On the flip side, both featuring her singing, is "Happy Birthday Blues."

Since becoming a star, Kathy has been on numerous television shows and appeared at the Paramount Theater in Brooklyn. She has made several flights back East with her mother.

* * * *

BECAUSE of the personal appearance requirements of her profession, she has had to transfer from Jordan High School to a Hollywood professional school.

As long as she takes with her school work, the professional institution permits her to leave for personal appearances.

Being a singing star is what Kathy has wanted ever since she was a third-grader at McKinley Elementary School.

But she would now prefer to still be going to Jordan "with all my friends."

And she's paying a price for her new fame.

"I can't go to dances and football games," she said. "I can't plan anything.

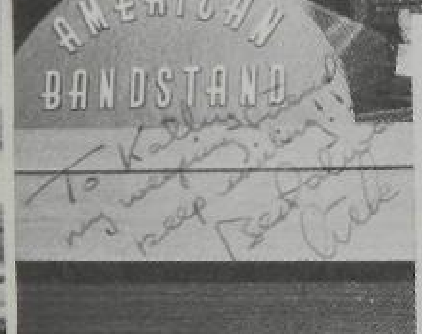

"I have to hang around and wait to see if they want me to cut a record or make a personal appearance.

"But I'm not complaining. I love to sing."

Take a glance at the musical horizon, and you'll find a brand new star shining brightly in an "Indigo" sky. The heavenly phenomenon we refer to is brilliant "young" recording artist Kathy Young, who does her work for — you guessed it — Indigo Records, of Hollywood, California.

The word "star" has often been used when referring to members of the show biz clan — sometimes loosely, other times with good reason. In the case of lovely Miss Young, we believe there can be no better choice of words. Kathy's initial disk on Indigo, appropriately entitled "A Thousand Stars," will bear this out. "Stars" looks like a real smash for our gal — and is a sure bet to zoom Kathy straight to the top on her meteoric rise to fame.

It's hard to believe that Kathy Young is just 15 years old, 'cause she performs on records, TV, stage shows and benefits with the poise of a real show business veteran. But the records at Santa Ana, California's City Hall will prove that she's been on the scene since October 21, 1945. Kathy's folks moved to Long Beach, when she was just a tot — and that's the city she'll name if you should ask about her home town.

Upon entering Jordan High School, in Long Beach, Kathy enjoyed entertaining her classmates by singing at parties. Her pals thought so highly of her ability that, before long, no dance or talent show at Jordan was complete without an appearance by the golden-throated thrush. Soon Indigo Records talent scouts were knocking on her door — and, before she knew what was happening, young Miss Young became a full-fledged recording artist.

Kathy's first try for Indigo, "A Thousand Stars," backed with "Eddie, My Darling," met with fabulous success on the West Coast. The "Star" disking shot up to the Number One position in nearly every major California city — then began ricocheting eastward. At this writing, it's making its way up the National Hit Parade Charts — which is a mighty unusual happening, for several reasons. Reason No. 1: In this era of Rock 'n' Roll, very few ballads make it to the top. Reason No. 2: Recorded by a 15-year-old unknown, the disk wouldn't seem to have a chance even if the tune was of top-notch caliber. Reason No. 3: Indigo Records is not a nationally known recording label. But Kathy Young and "A Thousand Stars" form an unusual — and unbeatable — combination, which seems capable of overcoming all obstacles.

Although Kathy still attends high school, she manages to squeeze in personal appearances on the West Coast, along with some TV stints. When not performing, she enjoys writing and arranging songs, strumming guitar, surfing and horseback riding.

GINNY TIU

The most refreshing and captivating personality in show business today is a tiny 6-year-old Chinese girl --- Ginny Tiu. She plays the piano with the skill and aplomb of a seasoned artist, and has a repertoire of some 85 pieces including Mozart, Chopin, Beethoven and Brahms, as well as swing and jazz --- which she learned by ear. In addition to her talent at the piano, Ginny also sings, tap dances, does the hula and a take-off on Jimmy Durante's "Inka Dinka Do". The pig-tailed moppet, dressed in a brilliant red Chinese costume, completely captivates her audience with her musicianship, showmanship, and charm.

The diminutive star has appeared on fifteen coast-to-coast television shows since she arrived in America from Hong Kong a little over a year ago. She has appeared on the Ed Sullivan Show (4 times), Danny Thomas Show, Jimmy Durante Show, Art Linkletter's House Party (3 times), Jack Paar Show, Dinah Shore Show, Groucho Marx' You Bet Your Life, Dick Clark's American Bandstand, Ralph Edward's This Is Your Life, and others.

In addition to her television appearances, Ginny has appeared at numerous supper clubs and theatres all over the country, including The Riviera Hotel (Las Vegas), Hollywood Palladium, Biltmore Hotel (Los Angeles), Harrah's Club (Lake Tahoe), Hotel Sahara (Las Vegas), Chi Chi (Palm Springs), Desert Inn (Las Vegas), Ciro's (Hollywood), Riverside Hotel (Reno), and Shrine Auditorium (Los Angeles).

Ginny Tiu was born in Manila of Chinese parents and is one of eight children. Her career in America was by accident. Here is the
